

PRESS RELEASE ISSUED BY MEALS ON WHEELS SOUTH AFRICA

14 April 2011

When There's 'Love In Action' You Can Get 100 Meals Out Of Each Pot

Love in Action Meals on Wheels, is feeding both old age pensioners and children in Motherwell, Port Elizabeth sometimes preparing up to 200 meals on a day.

“We are using two pots to cook for 130 to 200 people,” says branch manager, Mrs. Nomathamsanqua Ngelwane.

The branch feels neglected and feels as though government is failing them too.”Most of the time we have to use our own money to hire a car, pots and stoves,” says Mrs. Ngelwane.

They do not have a fridge. The secretary does not have stationery or letterheads and they are frustrated by the slow pace of intervention. “We have a large number of people, who grow in numbers every day, coming to the feeding center and we find ourselves having to send many of them away,” Mrs. Ngelwane says.

The branch would appreciate money, gas stoves, a fridge, plates, spoons, pots and pans and even food.
